Event: Food Distribution Seva for Needy Families of Cancer Patients

Date: 19th October 2023

Time: 5:30 PM (1-hour activity)

Venue: Outside TATA Cancer Hospital, Parel

Objective: The NSS Unit of RJ College, in collaboration with Satya Sai Seva Organization, is organizing "Food Distribution Seva " to support the needy family members of cancer patients who stay outside TATA Cancer Hospital in Parel. The objective of this ongoing activity is to provide essential food support to these families during their challenging times.

Organized By: NSS Unit, RJ College, in collaboration with Satya Sai Seva Organization.

UN SDG

1.SDG 4: Quality Education: Food distribution initiatives often include educational components aimed at promoting nutrition education and healthy eating habits. By providing information on balanced diets, food preparation, and the importance of nutritious foods, these programs contribute to Goal 4 by fostering lifelong learning and promoting health literacy among beneficiaries.

2.SDG 6: Clean Water and Sanitation: Access to safe and clean water is essential for food preparation and hygiene practices. Many food distribution programs also support access to clean water and sanitation facilities in communities where they operate, contributing to Goal 6's objective of ensuring availability and sustainable management of water and sanitation for all.

3.SDG 7: Affordable and Clean Energy: Food distribution activities may involve transportation, storage, and refrigeration, which require energy resources. Implementing energy-efficient practices and utilizing clean energy sources in food distribution systems can help reduce greenhouse gas emissions and mitigate environmental impacts, thus supporting Goal 7's aim of ensuring access to affordable, reliable, sustainable, and modern energy for all.

4.SDG 8: Decent Work and Economic Growth: Food distribution programs create employment opportunities along the supply chain, including food production, transportation, distribution, and retail. By generating income and livelihoods for individuals and communities involved in the food sector, these initiatives contribute to Goal 8 by promoting inclusive economic growth and decent work for all.

5.SDG 9: Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure: Effective food distribution relies on efficient logistics, infrastructure, and technological innovations to transport and store food safely and efficiently. Investing in infrastructure development and innovation in the food distribution sector can improve supply chain efficiency, reduce food loss and waste, and enhance food security, thus supporting Goal 9's objective of building resilient infrastructure, promoting inclusive and sustainable industrialization, and fostering innovation.

6.SDG 14: Life Below Water and Goal 15: Life on Land: Sustainable food distribution practices can help mitigate environmental impacts, such as deforestation, habitat destruction, and marine pollution, which affect marine and terrestrial ecosystems. By promoting sustainable sourcing, packaging, and transportation of food products, food distribution initiatives contribute to the conservation and sustainable use of terrestrial and marine resources, supporting Goals 14 and 15.

Brief Description: The NSS Unit of RJ College, in partnership with Satya Sai Seva Organization, embarked on a compassionate and ongoing initiative - "Food Distribution Seva." This heartfelt activity aims to assist the needy family members of cancer patients who are undergoing treatment at TATA Cancer Hospital in Parel. This act of kindness and support is intended to alleviate some of the burdens faced by families coping with the challenges of cancer treatment.

The rotation system ensures that there is a continuous presence of volunteers, ensuring that the activity can be sustained effectively. This initiative embodies the spirit of community service, empathy, and social responsibility, as it extends a helping hand to those in need during their difficult journey.
