UN SDG

1.SDG 4: Quality Education: Diya painting events often involve workshops or demonstrations that educate participants about traditional Indian art forms and techniques. By providing opportunities for learning and skill development, these events contribute to Goal 4 by promoting inclusive and equitable quality education.

2.SDG 5: Gender Equality: Diya painting events can empower women and girls by providing them with a platform to showcase their artistic talents and participate in cultural activities. By promoting gender-inclusive participation, these events support Goal 5's objective of achieving gender equality and empowering all women and girls.

3.SDG 11: Sustainable Cities and Communities: Diya painting events foster a sense of community and cultural identity by celebrating traditional art forms. By bringing people together to participate in cultural activities, these events contribute to creating vibrant and inclusive communities, supporting Goal 11's objective of making cities and human settlements inclusive, safe, resilient, and sustainable.

4.SDG 12: Responsible Consumption and Production: Diya painting promotes the use of sustainable materials such as clay and natural paints, which have minimal environmental impact compared to synthetic alternatives. By encouraging environmentally friendly practices, these events contribute to Goal 12's objective of promoting sustainable consumption and production patterns.

5.SDG 13: Climate Action: Diya painting events promote the use of eco-friendly materials and traditional craft techniques, which have lower carbon footprints compared to mass-produced items. By promoting sustainable practices, these events support Goal 13's objective of taking urgent action to combat climate change and its impacts.

6.SDG 17: Partnerships for the Goals: Diya painting events often involve collaboration between various stakeholders, including local artisans, community organizations, educational institutions, and government agencies. By fostering partnerships and multi-stakeholder engagement, these events enhance their impact and contribute to achieving the SDGs more effectively.

Brief Description: On October 22, 2023, the NSS unit of R.J. College, in partnership with the Gully Classes Foundation, hosted a Diya Painting Event at the Gully Classes Foundation Office in Chirag Nagar, Ghatkopar.

The primary objective of the event was to encourage creativity and artistic expression among volunteers while celebrating the spirit of Diwali, the festival of lights. Participants had the opportunity to paint and decorate diyas, adding a personal touch to these traditional symbols of light and hope.

The collaboration with the Gully Classes Foundation enhanced the community engagement aspect of the event, bringing together individuals to celebrate a culturally significant festival. The beautifully decorated diyas served as a source of joy for the volunteers and a token of love and positivity during Diwali.

The NSS unit appreciated the participation of volunteers in this creative endeavour and looked forward to the success of this Diya Painting Event. It reflected the unit's commitment to promoting art and community involvement in the spirit of the festival.
