Report

BMS Department

Name of the session: Talk on Cervical Cancer

Speaker: Dr. Urvi Maheshwari

Day: Wednesday

Date: 20th February 2024

Time: 2:00 p.m.

Venue: MPSS Hall, RJ College

The session was conducted to spread awareness and for understanding Cervical Cancer: Prevention, Detection, and Treatment held on 20th February, 2024 aimed to provide participants with comprehensive knowledge about cervical cancer, its risk factors, prevention strategies, and treatment options. The discussion began with an overview of cervical cancer, highlighting its significance and the importance of early detection for effective treatment outcomes. Participants were informed about various risk factors contributing to cervical cancer, including HPV infection, smoking, and early sexual activity. Prevention strategies were emphasized, such as HPV vaccination, regular cervical cancer screenings (Pap smear and HPV testing), and adopting safe sexual practices. The session underscored the importance of early detection through routine screenings and recognizing symptoms associated with cervical cancer. Furthermore, treatment options including surgery, radiation therapy, chemotherapy, and targeted therapy were discussed to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of available interventions. Throughout the session, participants engaged in discussions, expressing increased awareness and motivation to take proactive steps towards cervical cancer prevention and early detection. Additionally, information about support resources for patients and caregivers was provided, ensuring access to necessary support and assistance. Moving forward, follow-up sessions or workshops focusing on specific aspects like vaccination campaigns or support group meetings can be organized to further empower participants and promote community health and well-being.
