Number of Participants: 15

- The Rotaract Club Of Jai Hind College and Rotaract Club Of Ramniranjan Jhunjunwala College decided on doing a joint project, which would increase bonding between the members.
- The teams of both the Club Formed a WhatsApp group having the Core members in it for easier communication.
- Upon discussion, an idea to conduct an event which will train the members to organise events, right from its ideation to execution independently. In this initiative, members would be divided into groups and assigned a combination of avenues, for which they would come up with event ideas and present them, while covering aspects of costs, logistics, crowdsourcing etc.
- They then welcomed the members present. Followed by which, the Vice Presidents of the both the clubs addressed the members and briefed them of the day's event, "Budding Bonds"
- Members of RC Ahmedabad Midtown were also present for the Cultural exchange as conducted by RCRJ.
- All the members present were then divided into 4 groups of 7 to 9 members each, who were assigned a combination of 2 avenues, and were given the opportunity of planning an event, right from its ideation to execution. For the same, a time limit of 15 minutes was given to the groups.
- The initiative then concluded with a group picture, adjournment of the event.

Objectives:

- The primary aim of the "Budding Bonds" event is to develop a sense of unity and collaboration among the participating Rotaract clubs.
- This event aims to bring together members from different backgrounds, experiences, and perspectives with the shared purpose of making a positive impact on the community.

Outcome:

- Intercollegiate Collaboration: "Budding Bonds" exemplified effective collaboration between the Rotaract Clubs of Jai Hind College and Ramniranjan Jhunjunwala College, fostering an intercollegiate platform for students to jointly plan and execute events.
- Skill Development: The event served as a practical avenue for students to their organisational and crisis management skills, providing valuable hands-on experience in event planning, execution, and addressing unforeseen challenges.
