Department of Political Science

Report on the Structured Feedback on Curriculum

The academic Year 2022-23

The Political Science Department conducted a comprehensive structured feedback by consulting with four key stakeholders: final-year Political Science students of 2022-23, alumni, peer educators from other academic institutions, and industry professionals. This assessment was conducted using an online platform, namely Google Forms, to solicit feedback from each stakeholder regarding the curriculum's relevance to the Industry and Society's needs, its emphasis on skill enhancement, and the current status of domain knowledge incorporation. Moreover, the stakeholders were invited to provide their valuable suggestions regarding the existing curriculum, discipline-specific elective on 'Right To Information And Good Governance', and value-added course on 'Understanding Human Rights'. The analysis derived from this process will be presented to the Board of Studies of Political Science in due course.
