Report on Curriculum feedback- Department of Zoology 2020-21

Department of Zoology conducted a curriculum feedback survey to understand the pros and cons of the existing syllabus in the subject of Zoology. The Google forms with specified questionnaires were generated and circulated to Alumni, Industry person, Peer teachers and students of current batch. The responses received were recorded and necessary action was taken to meet the needs of the students, industry and society at large. A brief report of the feedback from each sector is as follows;

ALUMNI FEEDBACK: The feedback was taken from 2019-20 alumni batch who were fresh graduates and were well-versed with the syllabus. According to 90% students, the curriculum is relevant to the needs of the industry. A small section did not agree with the relevance of the curriculum with the needs of the industries. An attempt was made to reach out and understand the lacunae from this group. Majority of them also agreed to the contributions of curriculum to societal needs and for skill enhancement. The alumni suggested on introducing elective and interdisciplinary courses for wider job opportunities.

No

It was worth learning, although it doesn't guarantee a career

Can arrange carrier guidance program ,so that students can choose the correct carrier option.

Everything is too good , just a small request. Please don't take the lecture on room no . 26 because of all the sounds, by which we missed out many important words and many informative concept . Which is still not cleared but soon it will.

Students can be given few elective courses in the paper 5 that is Applied components in which a student will be free to choose the topics or units that will be there in the list; like few courses related to other departments (interdisciplinary courses) or students can be given liberty to choose a specific topic (scientific) that she/he wants to study and teachers can guide them.

Thank you.

INDUSTRY PERSON FEEDBACK: Feedback from industry personnel was taken and it was understood that the current Zoology syllabus is in relevance to the needs of the industry. A mixed response was received regarding the applications of curriculum in society and for skill enhancement. They suggested to introduce scientific writing and clinical research studies as part of curriculum.

PEER TEACHERS FEEDBACK: Many of the peer teachers from other institutions gave their consent on the relevance of current curriculum to the needs of industry. Few teachers mentioned that the curriculum maybe less relevant for society and for skill enhancement. All participating teachers felt that the curriculum helps in enhancing the knowledge of students however some feel that the curriculum needs to be concise. They suggested that more research based, skill enhancement and hands-on training courses has to be incorporated.

No,
Thank you.

Yes.the college should engage in dance related programs

In education a curriculum is broadly as the totality of student experience that occurred in the educational process.
