Industrial Visit

Date: 12 March, 2019

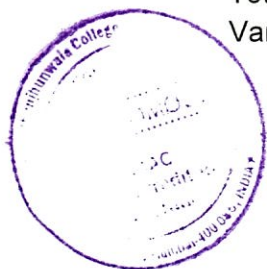

Day: Tuesday

Venue: National Museum of Indian Cinema, Peddar Road, Mumbai

The students of Ramniranjan Jhunjunwala College, BMM and MAEMA Department, visited the iconic National Museum of Indian Cinema. The visit to the museum was organized to give information about Indian cinema to the students. The museum has two separate buildings- one part is housed in an elegant 19th century heritage bungalow, Gulshan Mahal and the second is a newly constructed building with four floors of a spectacular collection of artifacts and interactive exhibits. It gives brief information about how the silent era of Indian cinema had turned into talkies. It has a special wall of all the recipients of Dadasaheb Phalke awards till date. A full section has been dedicated to Mahatma Gandhi. Also there is a full another section dedicated to cameras that range from the ones that were used while shooting silent films to one that are used for 3D and 4K resolution films till now. A special thanks to The Director General for interacting with our students, Mr Manohar S. Bisht and Mr Prasad for an informative session and the entire team for making our visit a memorable one! It was a great experience for the media students as it helped them to know more about Indian cinema. They have a varied and amazing collection of different types of lighting, recording and editing machines, displayed in the museum. The students were astonished to know about the various facts and surprising things that take place while making a movie. The students and faculties especially enjoyed the interactive sessions on the second floor of the museum and the animation machines. It was a great pleasure for the media students to get a chance to visit the museum and learn the aspects of Indian cinema.
