- The aim was to remove the myths about a transgender's life from the minds of people and to spread awareness about the LGBTQ+ community, a section of humans treated inhumanely by society.
- We tried to create a positive outlook towards the community, in our attempt to make a difference.
- The motive was to understand the difficulties that they've faced in their lives as queer people in our society. We hoped to gain knowledge about their struggles and try to educate the other participants in our project.
- The concept note was submitted to the core team. And then on approval, the speakers were contacted and the date and time of the project were finalized.
- We also approached other Rotaract clubs for collaborations out of which 6 joined us so that we could help spread awareness to a larger audience.
- PR messages were drafted and posters were made.
- Constant follow up was done with the other club's POCs.
- A WhatsApp group link was also forwarded with the pr message for the participants to join.
- There was a msg sent to the group wherein everyone had to introduce themselves just to interact with the audience. Reminders were sent to the group and a smooth flow was seen without any mishaps.
- Approximately 90 people joined the webinar.
- The first half of the webinar consisted of Miss Anjali Siroya's insights about the transgender community. Anjali Siroya identifies as a Heterosexual Transwoman. She's a survivor of discrimination and abuse and feels that she is a Human Being first and that should be considered. She's a Media graduate and was the 1st transgender woman in Mumbai to be crowned as a queen in her college. She is currently working at The Humsafar Trust as Advocacy Officer and is a recruitment coordinator in a project for the socio-economic inclusion of the Transgender communities. She's the core member of Yaariyan (youth initiative of Humsafar Trust) She shared with us her journey and also some common misconceptions about gender and sex. It was very overwhelming to get to know so much about the community from her. There were a few questions from the audience which were addressed by Anjali Ma'am.
- One of which was her view on the movie Laxmi starring Akshay Kumar playing the role of a transwoman.
- After which we had a panel discussion regarding the LGBTQ+ community.
- The panel included Miss Anjali, Miss. Arunima Rajkumar and Miss Hansika Jethnani.
- Arunima Rajkumar is a freelance photographer who was raised between India and the UK. She is a graduate of BA Photojournalism from UAL. She has been living and working between Delhi, Mumbai, and London since 2015.
- Hansika Jethnani is a poet and visual artist. She is from the diaspora and was born in Indonesia. Having lived in multiple countries since then, she moved to Mumbai in 2018, where Arunima & her now live together as an openly queer couple.

- Broad ended questions were asked like What according to are the biggest/most common myths or misconceptions about the LGBTQ community that you see existing in India? What is it like being a queer member of Indian society? What are the things that have made it easier and harder to be a part of it
- There is a difference between sexual orientation, sexual identity, and biological sex. How often do you see people getting them mixed up? And all would you like to define them in your own words?
- Insights on these questions were shared by all three panelists. The whole panel discussion was very interactive and gave us a little sneak peek of their lives.
- The speakers were addressed with a thank you note for giving their valuable time and helping us spread awareness about this topic.
- We took a nice happy virtual picture with the speakers and the audience.
- All the members of the district council and collaborating Rotaract clubs were acknowledged for their presence.
