Project Level Club

- Colors is one of our mega Flagship projects. It has always aimed at creating opportunities for children between std. 5th to std. 10th to showcase their fine art through drawing, painting, writing etc.
- This year, the project aimed at not only reaching out to particular schools but also contacting children from various other places as well apart from schools. Date and medium of executing the project was finalized.
- Chairpersons were released-

- Approached to schools, so that we could contact their children and give them the opportunity. Due to lockdown we could only find 3 schools agreeing to do the project with their students.
- It was decided that volunteers will approach students and other children in their vicinity to get maximum participants. Zoom meet was done for proper discussion.
- We also sought help from Alumni and other Rotaractors for their ideas. Sheets and Colors were sponsored through college authority. On-ground meet was organized for proper discussion and distribution of paper and colors so that it can be provided to children.
- Pre-PR was executed so that everyone can get well aware about the project. Link- https://www.instagram.com/p/CKESfh6gelv/?utm_source=ig_web_copy_link
- Slogged for weeks to get this project done right under this condition. Aftermath of weeks of work we reached to the most important day of Rotaract year 20-21.
- COLORS
- This project is RCRJ's one of the biggest and mega flagship project as we all know. Although due to corona virus we did not go into dilemma on how we can execute the project when schools are closed? How will we turn this project a grand one under these circumstances.
- However, with super amazing manpower in our club we thought of engaging all the members as volunteers in their locality and carry out the project with children around.
- Certain schools were also supportive and also contacted their school children and asked them to participate in the project. Our all-time favorite alumni were also helpful throughout.
- They guided us in how we can create awareness regarding the project which has been held differently this year. As the project was carried out for 4 days with 4th day - celebrating Pyaar for colors as a PR initiative.

- On the very first day of colors volunteers started pitching maximum children and distributed paper and colors to them and other required materials to the participants. Bountiful Children from different locality took active participation. This year we thought of bringing a change and decided to keep the project for all the children from std. 1 to std. 10.
- From Std. 1 to Std. 10 each one of them seemed extremely excited for the project and were pleasant. Volunteers asked them to draw anything of their choice.
- We received plenty of mesmerizing art on that day from morning to the end of the day. First day went real well and we looked forward for continuing the project with handwriting competition. Volunteers got back to their work early morning with same zeal like a day before.
- Pitched all the students in their respective location like co-operative society, schools, tuition classes, siblings etc. Children were as excited as they were on first day, and hence, they started with
- Handwriting competition. Papers were distributed and thus they began to start writing. Volunteers took their beautiful pictures and posted on social media and shared everywhere they could.
- Parents appreciated their efforts throughout. By the end of 2nd day volunteers were exhausted. Hence, we called upon a quick online meeting and had great conversation over coffee regarding the 2 days spent in colors.
- Energetic volunteers again got up with the same enthusiasm and started with the 3rd day of the project which was sketching competition. Participants were provided with paper and other essential material like pencils and eraser. Children started sketching whatever they knew and they practiced.
- At the end of the beautiful day we received ample of pictures, which were almost impossible to count. All the volunteers sent the list of children who participated and hence we made a single sheet where in each participant is mentioned. Profit and loss sheet is also been attached below.

- The Winners for the Project will be soon released and will be appreciated with certificate. Participant certificate were provided to each one of them.
- On 20th January we did Post-PR activity with under privileged children. (which is reported under PR avenue) All these efforts throughout was worth it at the end of the project when everything panned out as it was planned.
