Project Name Ecoment

Venue Gully Classes, Ghatkopar (West) Juhu Beach, Juhu, Mumbai.

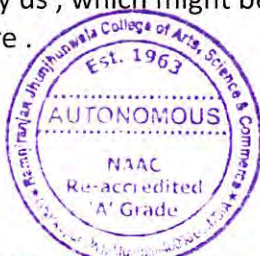

Start Time 09-09-2021 11:00:00 End Time 21-09-2021 18:00:00

- The aim or the purpose of Ecoment was to spread awareness regarding the need and importance to celebrate eco-friendly Ganesh Ustav.
- It was to make people realise how the pandemic has changed the way we celebrate our festival and for the good and why we should continue celebrating it the way we did it 2020 and how the beaches suffer throughout the holy festival of Ganesh Ustav .
- Despite the pandemic or anything or whatever scenario we are faced with in future , its important for people to know and understand that the festival must always be celebrated in an environment friendly way.

-Summary

Ecoment Project started on the 9 of September by the release of jpeg and pr message all over social media , it was further carried out by sharing a reel video on the rotaract club of RJ college page which portrayed the journey of how the pandemic unknowingly influenced us to CHANGE the way we celebrate our festivals and why we should continue celebrating eco friendly festival like we use to do in 2020 ,next was Celebrating Ganesh Ustav with the underprivileged kids of Gully Classes by involving them in fun activities like colouring , dancing and most importantly story telling on the topic " Why we celebrate Ganesh Ustav ?" , the last Initiative in this project was the beach cleanup drive which was carried out in Juhu, it's motive was to clean the beach and make people realise that please don't let the nature suffer because of the way we celebrate our festival and also to see the eco friendly visarjan of bappa made the whole thing complete for us .

The impact analysis of our project was firstly it shook people from inside by seeing the reel video, it made them understood why is it necessary to always celebrate festivals in an eco-friendly way and it also showed them a clear picture of how they unknowingly transformed The way The celebrate festival and for The good. The gully classes celebration with underprivileged kids was a wholesome vibe all together to see people smile because did you and have fun and to finally know the reason why do we celebrate festival is alot of feeling, next in beach cleanup drive honestly after cleaning the beach, the beach looked much prettier and also there were people from the garbage department were present to take away all the garbage which we had collected, the felt really happy to see that someone else also cares for the beach it's not only us , which might be a onetime feeling but it's important for them to know that we all do care .
