Goals are very important to students as they enable them to set targets and plan ways to achieve them. Goal setting instills in them a sense of direction and focus. The speaker of the day Prof Shalu Purswani is an experienced faculty with more than a decade of teaching. She also is a keen researcher. Prof Shalu spoke about the importance of setting goals and how we can align our behaviour to achieve them. She gave students valuable insight on how setting goals gives them long-term vision and short-term motivation, how it focuses on acquisition of their knowledge, and helps them organize their time and resources so that they can make the most of their personal and professional lives.

LETS UNDERSTAND WITH A HELP OF STORY

- Chuan and Jing joined a wholesale company together just after graduation. Both worked very hard. After several years, the boss promoted Jing to sales executive but Chuan remained a sales rep.
- One day Chuan could not take it anymore, tender resignation to the boss and complained the boss did not value hard working staff, but only promoted those who flattered him.
- The boss knew that Chuan worked very hard for the years, but in order to help Chuan realise the difference between him and Jing, the boss asked Chuan to do the following.

Go and find out anyone selling water melon in the market? Chuan returned and said yes. The boss asked how much per kg? Chuan went back to the market to ask and returned to inform boss the $12 per kg.
- Boss told Chuan, I will ask Jing the same question? Jing went, returned and said, boss, only one person selling water melon. $12 per kg. $100 for 10 kg, he has inventory of 340 melons. On the table 58 melons, every melon weighs about 15 kg, bought from the South two days ago, they are fresh and red, good quality.
- Chuan was very impressed and realised the difference between himself and Jing. He decided not to resign but to learn from Jing.
