REPORT

Ms. Sumana Roy's session began with an introduction to the meaning and importance of soft and life skills in an individual's life. The speaker elaborated on soft skills that are also known as transferable skills or people skills. The speaker shared with the students as to why students need to develop life and soft skill in their daily life. Students were told to carry out a small activity wherein they can identify their current understanding by writing out their perceptions. Students were suggested to keep a journal with them which would help them get a better idea regarding what they want to achieve. To set priorities and goals, students were suggested to create a worksheet and perform daily self-reflection which could help in building positive image. The three day session ended on an interactive note with active involvement of students on all the three days. The students were motivated to use life and soft skills in their daily life which would enhance their focus towards education. The session ended with a formal vote of thanks to Ms. Sumana Roy.
