His main area of research is ancient Indian numismatics and he has written a number of papers on many diverse series of ancient Indian coins besides writing two books and editing two volumes. Apart from research, he is also interested in spreading knowledge about Indian coins amongst students and general public through training courses, lectures, and books. Since 1988, he has been the Project Director of the training course of the Institute called Workshop on Practical Guide to the Fundamentals of Indian Numismatics. He has also devised some other practical training oriented courses on Indian Numismatics and has been conducting them at the Institute. He has also conducted Introductory Awareness Workshop on Indian coins to educate the students about the importance of coins for our history and as our heritage at a large number of colleges/ schools/ institutions / groups. His book entitled Bharatiya Sikke: Ek Aitihāsik Parichaya in Hindi first published in 2003 was also an attempt in this direction. This book was also awarded Pt. Bhagwanlal Indraji Medal for the best numismatic publication for the year 2003 by the Indian Coin Society. Working towards the objective of making young students aware about our numismatic heritage and its importance, he has also conceptualized, designed and brought out many informative coin posters and coin card games, which have become very popular.

He also helped build a small money museum at the Institute. Now under his stewardship, this museum has been redeveloped into a bigger museum. Under his leadership, during the last 6-7 years, the INHCRF has built a detailed documentation of about 200,000 coins belonging to several institutional collections for the National Mission on Monuments and Antiquities, Government of India, and another 75,000 coins belonging to different collections.

Besides Bharatiya Sikke: Ek Aitihāsik Parichay (2003), he has written another book (with Dilip Rajgor) entitled Studies in the Coinage of the Western Ksatrapas (IIRNS, Nasik, 1994) and also edited the following two books:

1. Papers presented at the Colloquium on Medieval Indian Coinages: A Historical and Economic Perspective, Anjaneri (Nashik), 2001.
2. Foreign Coins Found in the Indian Sub-continent (with Dr. David W. MacDowall), IIRNS Publications, Anjaneri (Nashik), 2004.

He has been editing Numismatic Digest, the annual Research Journal of the institute, first as Associate Editor (1988-2002) and then as Editor (since 2002). He also edited a newsletter called IIRNS Newslines between April 1999 and January 2007, when the publication of the newsletter was stopped.

Report of Numismatic workshop 2020

The activities of the Department were concluded with a Numismatic Workshop titled Know Your Coins, Know Your History by Mr. Amiteshwar Jha Director, Indian Numismatic, Historical and Cultural Research Foundation on March 13, 2020. The talk focussed on how numismatics helped the understanding of History. This session was helpful for the SYBA Paper III on Ancient India and TYBA Paper IX on Archaeology and Numismatics. The students got an opportunity to physically handle ancient coins and enjoyed the insightful talk. 62 students attended the talk. The workshop was financially supported by Hinduja Foundation.

The History Association also organized its valedictory session on March 13, 2020. Students of the Certificate of Excellence Programme were felicitated and prize winners of several competitions too were awarded their certificates.
