1. Let's Doodle it

The participants were expected to doodle in the outline of a microorganism. Total 24 entries from 8 different colleges were obtained which were judged on the basis of plagiarism, creativity and neatness. 3 prizes were distributed.

2. Humor it up

A meme making competition that showcased students' creativity of mixing humor within the reach of science. A total of 16 entries from 10 different colleges were judged on the basis of plagiarism, creativity and relevance to the given topic and 3 prizes were distributed.

3. Dramebaaz Microbionts!

In the era of reels, students came up with an idea of video making competition in which characters or students themselves enacted as if the character or students was a microbe. A total of 12 entries from 10 different colleges were judged on the basis of plagiarism, humor and creativity and 2 prizes were awarded.

4. Mind Freeze

Mind Freeze, a quiz competition, was the first live event conducted on the day. It was conducted on the QuizWhizzer app. The motive behind the game was to test the participant's knowledge over the topics like GK and General Science in a fun way. Scores were projected live on the leaderboard and thus, the top 3 scorers were awarded the prizes. Students from 10 different colleges had participated.

5. The Hawk Eyes!

Another live event involving a mysterious story that revolves around the SARS COVID infection and its Antidote was curated by the students and played as a treasure hunt game. Student participants were paired and given the storyline along with encrypted files to decode the treasure. Leaderboards were displayed on the live screen and 3 prizes were awarded.
